MASTERING THE BRILLIANCE WITHIN

Creating a Culture of Commitment

Join us for a workshop designed to differentiate Cultures of Commitment from Cultures of Compliance/Complacency/Sabotage.

Learn the attributes, tools and strategies to create a Culture of Commitment.

How do we define Culture? An often used and yet underestimated term in organizational effectiveness, culture can (and is) often the primary ingredient that determines the ability of an organization to reach or fail its stated Mission. This workshop will clearly teach you:

- ✓ The ultimate definition and value of your organizational culture
- ✓ The 2 primary types of culture, and the relationship of Leadership in creating each type
- ✓ The appropriate and inappropriate cultural type for your organization and industry
- ✓ The types of employees that thrive and those that cause problems in the different types of cultures
- ✓ The impact of culture on the employees and management of your organization
- ✓ The role that cultural transformation plays in determining the future results of your organization
- ✓ How to create the type of culture that best benefits your shareholder value
- ✓ The relationship of optimized human resource utilization to culture

Our workshop will give you the ability to assess, modify and optimize the perfect culture to meet your organizational goals.
