MASTERING THE BRILLIANCE WITHIN

Personal Mastery As A Foundation of Professional Success

Join us for a powerful workshop based on Peter Senge's work developed at the Business School at MIT. During this event, discover the relationship of Personal Mastery to Organizational Excellence, plus how the individual can transform their past habits into an approach of Personal Mastery.

Learn how to connect the both the individual Manager and the employees to the Organizational Mission by making it "their own".

In his landmark book "The Fifth Discipline: The Art and Practice of The Learning Organization" Peter Senge changed the world of American business forever. Using this classic work as a baseline guide, this workshop will:

- ✓ Define how Personal Life Visions and personal growth not only impact, but actually determine the professional outcomes of the best companies
- ✓ Help create a "Learning Organization" for your organizational culture
- ✓ Train you to operate as a generative Leader who brings out the best in the employees or associates in your organization
- ✓ Bridge the gap of personal interests to organizational outcomes
- ✓ Create the tools and vehicles for creating a values-based culture rather than merely a self-interested ego-based culture
- ✓ Identify the attributes of truly effective Teams, and how to create them

Our workshop will give you the ability to change the way you look at your organization, its Mission, and how to involve the people responsible to execute that Mission successfully into an entirely new paradigm of "work".
