MASTERING THE BRILLIANCE WITHIN

The Spectrum of Opportunities: Creating the Ideal Future for Me

-This workshop uses the Spectrum of Opportunity tool to help individuals create, clarify and prioritize the various options available to them in business or personal situations. Then the workshop helps you decide which one to pursue as a process of empowered self-actualization, success and fulfillment.

-The outcome of this process is the creation of a specific Project with goals and actions to achieve the future that is desired.

We all face transitional moments in our life where something has ended, and something new is about to begin. It may be a:

- job loss
- marriage ending
- child leaving home
- disease
- death

During these moments, we face a myriad of choices when we feel least capable of deciding what to do next.

That is precisely why this tool was created. Once I began working for the company that I sold my business to, my new employers decided that they no longer required my services and fired me. This was the first and only time in my life when I got fired, and I was scared for several reasons:

- Had I finally been "found out"?
- Was I incapable of ever finding another job?
- Could I believe in myself after this?
- How was I going to afford to live?

Instead of such self-doubtful and destructive thoughts, I created the Spectrum of Opportunity tool to decide which, out of multiple "futures," I was going to commit to pursuing.

This workshop provides you the Spectrum of Opportunity tool and teaches you how to use it in your:

- Marriage
- Health
